Mutilated Bank Bills.

The New York Banks, we perceive, have decided to refuse all mutilated bills, and to stand a suit to test their liability. This movement, is not altogether confined to New York either, for the banks in this city and elsewhere are now extremely particular about receiving fractional portions of bank bills. Formerly it was the custom for banks to redeem all parts of which contained sufficient of the signature to insure identification; but adroit rogues took advantage of this, and by skillful manipulation easily made five bills out of four, and secured the redemption of the whole. The process of manufacture is very simple and by decreasing the proportion, bills were readily circulated. An exchange thus explains the process:

If six bank notes of the denomination of ten dollars were operated on, the disfigurement would not be very great.

The operator first carefully tears off one-sixth of the first bill; the remainder will easily pass; he then tears off two-sixths of the next bill, and supplies its place with the one-sixth taken from the first; three-sixths is taken from the third note, and its place supplied with the piece taken from the second, and so on to the last. He has thus seven bills of ten dollars each; two of them minus a piece at one end, (one at the right and one at the left,) and the other four each with a single seam from which a similar piece has been taken. Mixed with other notes, these mutilations readily pass without detection, or at least, are not rejected if the bills are upon some well known bank.

The safest method to avoid this fraud, is to take no bills upon which the signatures are not whole and perfect.

☞ Monday next the people of Kansas vote on their Constitution. * * * *

If the Constitution is rejected, it will be only evidence that the people of Kansas do not want to enter the Union yet—that they do not wish to assume the expense of a State government, and are very well satisfied to remain as they are. —Madison Argus, of Saturday.

By what process of reasoning the Argus arrives at this conclusion, we cannot understand; but we can understand why the Argus would have its readers look upon the rejection of that very Democratic measure, the English Dodge, in this light. It desires to escape the odium to which its advocacy of the Kansas villainy justly subject it. An attractive bait, in the shape of a land bribe, is attached to the bill, to induce the people of Kansas to accept a Constitution which fosters slavery upon their soil, and this offer is made to them by a Democratic Congress, and upheld by a Democratic Press. That "the people of Kansas do not want to enter the Union yet," is too glaringly false to need refutation. If they have rejected the Lecompton Constitution, by voting against the "proposition" submitted yesterday,—and their entire previous course justifies the belief that they have done so—it is convincing evidence, that much as they desire to enter the Union, rather than sacrifice their devotion to the cause of Free Labor, they prefer to stay out.

SUICIDE OF A POET.—A week ago Sunday last, JOHN V. JAMES, of Albany, a relative of the English novelist, and a poet and writer of decided talent, who was then in New York, wrote a notice of his own death, and sent it to the Herald for publication. It appeared in that paper of Monday; but Mr. JAMES survived. He died, however, on Tuesday evening, and his remains were taken to Albany for burial. A report was circulated that some foul play had taken place, but this was ascertained to be improbable, and there was little doubt that he committed suicide.

A MOB AT MANITOWOC.—We learn from the Tribune, that quite an excitement was created at Manitowoc, last week, in consequence of a resolution of the Board of Trustees, recommending a reduction of prices paid for teams on the streets. A number of Germans, owning teams, congregated on the corners of the streets, and kept up a series of riotous demonstrations, until the ringleaders were arrested. The Tribune says:

The claim set up, that this is a free country, will hardly be sufficient to justify such a disposition as is frequently made manifest by men whose interests are effected by the action of TOWN, County or State Government.

The price heretofore paid to the teams on the road has been $4,00 per day, and the resolution of the Board, to reduce the pay to $3,00, which, in the present financial crisis, not yet hardly on the wane, is deemed a fair remuneration, and on which rate, and even less, hundreds of teams might be obtained at a day's notice, is the sole cause for the disturbance.

THE GOLDEN HARVEST.—The production of gold in Australia for the past year is set down, by the best English authorities, at one hundred millions of dollars. The production in other countries is estimated as follows: California, $65,000,000; Russia and Siberia, $20,000,000; in other parts of the world $15,000,000; total, $200,000,000.

A FAIR PROFIT.—A correspondent of the Cleveland Review says that N. M. Standart, Esq., will probably clear about $2,000 on the cargo of wheat shipped in the schooner Correspondent from Detroit to Liverpool, besides having a good return freight for the vessel.

☞ The next fair and show of the Waupaca County Agricultural Society, will be held at Weyauwega.

☞ The 30th annual fair of the American Institute will be opened in the Crystal Palace, New York, on the 15th of September, and closed October 27th. In addition to the usual premiums, a large gold medal will be awarded to articles of superior merit and utility, for which prize inventors and mechanics are solicited to compete.

La Crosse Railroad.

OFFICE LA CROSSE & MIL. R. R. CO., No 480 Broadway, Albany, July 20, '58.

To the Holders of the Land Grant Bonds of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad Company

In accordance with a resolution of the Board of Directors of our Company, passed this day, I hereby give notice that the interest to become due on the Land Grant Bonds on the 1st of August next will not be paid.

It is with deep regret and mortification that I am compelled to make this announcement. Its justification, however, of the action of the Board of Directors, I desire to say that a Committee of our Board was appointed several weeks since, whose duty it was to negotiate for funds to provide for the payment of these coupons.

This Committee did make satisfactory arrangement with the parties for the amount necessary, and so reported to the Board of Directors; whereupon the Secretary was directed to give public notice that the interest would be paid on the 2 d of August next. The recent action of the Governor of Wisconsin, adverse to the interests and rights of this Company, so affected our credit that the arrangement previously made by them for the required funds was frustrated, and the Committee now find themselves unable, by any justifiable means, to raise the required sum of money.

I deem it my further duty to state that the construction of the road has been faithfully continued by the contract r, and it is confidently expected that within the next fifty days cars will be running regularly from Milwaukee to La Crosse, on the Mississippi River.

I am also perfectly satisfied, from a recent visit at Washington, that the Land Department will recognize the vested rights of the Company to 230,400 acres of land certified by the late Governor of Wisconsin, in pursuance of the Land Grant act—so that these Bonds, limited to $4,000,000 by the modified trust deed, are secured by a first mortgage upon the Railroad from Portage City to La Crosse, 105 miles, which is universally estimated as one of the best paying routes west of the State of New York.—These facts are simply stated by me to prevent a sacrifice by holders at the present ruinous prices.

N. P. STANTON,
President La Crosse and Mil. R. R. Co.

Bloody Indian Battle—Twenty Sioux and Eleven Chippewas Killed.

We learn from a gentleman just down from the Red River country, that a fierce and bloody battle occurred between bands of the Sioux and Chippewa Indians, near Big Stone Lake, in Minnesota, on the 14th of July. The Chippewas lay in ambush, and when their enemies came within shooting distance, dropped twenty of them at the first fire. A hand-to-hand encounter then ensued, both parties fighting desperately. In this the Sioux lost six more of their men, but killed eleven of the Chippewas.

These tribes cannot meet now without coming to battle, and it behooves the government to send a sufficient force to keep them in order.—For the sake of humanity, a stop ought to be put to this work of mutual extermination, and for the additional reason that so long as the bloody feud continues the security of the white settlements is endangered. The first step should be to confine them to their respective reservations, not permitting them as heretofore, contrary to treaty stipulations, to prowl at large over the country.—Chicago Press & Tribune of Saturday.

Death of a Little Girl from Hydrophobia.

The little daughter of Wm. G. Lewis, Esq., of Farmingham, who was bitten some four weeks since by a mad dog, exhibited on Thursday evening last, the first symptoms of disease. She complained of her throat, and soon after began to dread the sight of water, shuddering whenever it was put before her, or even spoken of. During the progress of the disease, she would frequently complain of hunger and thirst, but when offered food or drink, it would distress her greatly, and she would turn away shrieking, and hide her face. Convulsions became very frequent and severe, and the child seemed to suffer intense agony, complaining of her throat, ears and head, and losing her consciousness while they lasted. During the absence of the paroxysms, she possessed the use of all her faculties in a remarkable degree, her sense of hearing particularly being very acute. An attempt was made to administer other, but it affected her so violently that it had to be discontinued. Dr. Whitney, her physician, succeeded on Saturday in giving the child some morphine, repeating the doses frequently and keeping her under its influence, as it appeared to mitigate the severity of the spasms, which gradually lessened until death relieved her from misery on Sunday afternoon.

The child's face had been much lacerated by the dog, having been bitten in four or five places, tearing down the side of her mouth, and all the wounds but this last had entirely healed, before any signs of sickness appeared.—Boston Journal, July 26.

HORSE RAILROADS.—The Philadelphia North American notes the establishment and confirmed popularity, in that city, of street railroads as a "local revolution." It says that thousands of persons along the route of the roads, who were beforehand so much alarmed at the prospect of having a railway going by their doors, have subsided into unresisting toleration, and become fast friends of the work:

"Property is not depreciated; children are not run over there any more than by omnibusses and carts elsewhere; indeed, the course of the cars is so sure, and they can be seen and heard so far off, that there is no excuse for accidents. When the thing was new, people used to stop and look at the cars pass in wonder. Children delighted to place pebbles on the rails to hear the wheels smash them. But now no one notices them any more than the passage of a hack or a dray. Fire engines and all manner of other vehicles find the tracks a great convenience for running upon, and use them constantly, so that if the vote of all the drivers in the city were to be now taken they would unanimously go for the railroad. Nor do the cars obstruct the free passage of the street. Each car takes up only the room it stands upon, which is not much greater than that occupied by an omnibus, and it passes so quickly as to be soon out of the way."

THE CAMPBELL MURDER AT DETROIT.—The girl who was so badly burned at the Franklin House, in Detroit, is dead, more than three-fourths of her body was burned. The Detroit Free Press says:

The occurrence happened in this wise: The young persons, Hannah Haney and Horace Greenfield, went down cellar to fill the lamp filler with burning fluid. In doing this the young man poured it from a large can while the girl held the light. He states that she at no time held it nearer than within a foot or two of the stream of fluid. How this may be is not certain, but the gas rising from the fluid took fire. The flame instantly ran down to the fluid, and ignited it communicating with the interior of the can—This exploded at once, blowing the large two gallon can into peices, and knocking them both down. At the instant of the explosion, the fluid flew upon their clothes, and they were at at once enveloped in flames.

LAMENTABLE TRAGEDY.—A reputable young man, named George H. Price, paid attentions to a daughter of John Arvin, of Lunenburg, Va.—The father was averse to the arrangement, and Price was always made aware of this feeling, but continued to visit the lady. On Wednesday of last week, he went to the house with the avowed intention of asking Arvin for his daughter. Upon entering Arvin's porch, Price was requested to go away by Arvin and the family generally.—Not heeding their request, Arvin made a negro turn Price's horse loose outside of his gate, and wrote a note to Price requesting him to follow his horse. Price said he would not leave until he got ready. Arvin, in the meantime, had got his shot gun, and Price, advancing towards him, was told not to come, if he did, he would shoot him. He made two steps, and was shot, living about an hour afterward.

DEATH OF SAM BROWN.—The death of Mr. Brown, whose illness has been of long and painful duration, took place about one o'clock this (Wednesday) morning. Mr. Brown has been connected with the M. S. & N I. R. R. for three years past, as general freight agent, and general superintendent, in both of which positions he succeeded in winning an enviable reputation, and always enjoying the warmest friendship of of all his associates and employees. The flag of the R R. workmen is this morning at half-mast, and draped in mourning, in honor of the departed Superintendent.

Mr. Brown's disease was chronic abscess of the hip. He has been cut off in the prime of life, being only 43 years of age. Funeral services will be held at the Episcopal church, to-morrow at half past ten A. M., after which, by special train, the remains will be removed to Tecumseh, and deposited in the family burial ground of Gen. Brown.—Adrian Expositor.

The Election Yesterday.

The election for delegates to the Charter Convention passed off quietly here yesterday, there being, apparently, little or no interest felt in the result. The number of votes polled was unusually light, and the candidates nominated on Saturday night, were, in most cases, elected.

The delegates elected from each ward, are:

First Ward—Wm. H. Jacobs, Garret Barry and Jackson Hadley.

Second Ward— ——Kelly, C. F. Bode and Dr. Heubschmann.

Third Ward—Jas. B. Cross, S. B. Grant and Edward McGarry.

Fourth Ward—Hermann Schwarting, Jonathan Taylor and Jas. Martin.

Fifth Ward—Chas. H. Larkin, E. De Wolf and P. V. Deuster.

Sixth Ward—Frederick Schloemilch, Leander Comstock, and Wm. Verdmer.

Seventh Ward—A. G. Miller, Mathias Stein, and James S. Brown.

Eighth Ward—Henry Williams, M. Stuben, and Dr. Wunderly.

Ninth Ward—John Kline, Samuel Brown, and A. Keye.

The votes polled in the different wards, were as follows:

In the First Ward, the whole number of votes cast was 173.

Wm. H. Jacobs receiving	166
Garret Barry "	151
Jackson Hadley "	125
Scattering	22

In the Second Ward the whole number of votes polled was 149.

—— Kelley receiving	135
C. F. Bode "	129
Dr. Heubschmann "	107
Scattering	5

In the Third Ward but 91 votes were polled, of which James B. Cross, S. B. Grant and Edward McGarry, received the majority.

In the Fourth Ward, the election was carried on with more spirit, there being an opposition ticket in the field, which was elected. The whole number of votes polled in this Ward was 278.

Hermann Schwarting receiving	166
Jonathan Taylor "	164
Jas. S. Martin "	158

And on the regular ticket, or those who received the nominations, S. C. West received 116 votes, Winfield Smith 118, Nathan Pereless 111, and scattering there were five.

In the Fifth ward 339 votes were polled

Chas. Larkin receiving,	225
Edward DeWolf, "	169
P. V. Deuster, "	174

and therefore elected. Only one of these, the latter, was nominated, the other two, Messrs. Rogers and Mitchell being defeated—it we may call it a defeat.

In the Sixth Ward,

Frederick Schloemilch received,	61
Leander Comstock, "	41
Wm. Verdmer, "	42

and were elected. We did not learn the names of the other candidates.

In the Seventh Ward,—

A. G. Miller received	368
Mathias Stein "	367
Jas. S Brown "	369
E. L. H. Gardiner "	65
Scattering	3

In the Eighth Ward,—

Henry Williams received	193
Dr. Wunderly "	168

A DEALER IN BOGUS MONEY ARRESTED.—A suspicious looking individual came here several days ago, whom Chief of Police BECK "spotted" as a gentleman who was engaged in no legitimate business, and upon whose movements he consequently kept a close watch. It came to Mr. BECK's knowledge that the person whom he had his eye upon put up at the American House on Sunday morning, and had a well-filled carpet bag taken to his room. Seeing that the opportunity was a good one, and having become convinced of the nature of the gentleman's business, Mr. BECK sent a couple of his detectives to the American, to inspect the mysterious carpet-bag, and arrest the owner if anything wrong turned up. Accordingly they went to his room, and found in his carpet bag some six thousand dollars on the "Farmer's Joint Stock Banking Co.," at Toronto, Canada West, which concern went through about three years ago. There were also several bills on the same bank, or a branch of it, purporting to be located at Green Bay, Wisconsin. They arrested the owner of this nice little pile, who gave his name as "Ira Brown," but his real name is believed to be EDWARD MORTIMER, a trunk having came to him addressed to that name. On his person a number of counterfeit bills on Eastern banks were found. The bills were nearly all new, three and four on a sheet, only needing to be cut to be ready for use.

This fellow is a wholesale dealer in worthless money, and makes it his business to travel around and supply small operators with "currency" at a slight discount. He disposed of considerable of his capital here, one of the recipients of which, calling himself VOSBURGH, was arrested yesterday, and with the other rascal is now in jail. There are, it is confidently believed, several other of these sharp financiers in the State, connected with this BROWN, or MORTIMER, whose capture has furnished a clue to ferret out the others.

This fellow had orders from various parts of the State for his bogus money, the drawers of which will be closely watched. BROWN or MORTIMER, whichever he may be, is said to have resided at Sheboygan, in 1854, where he married a respectable young woman, whom he has nearly ever since neglected, travelling through the country pursuing his illegitimate business. He, as well as all the those connected with him, if they can be traced out, will undoubtedly pay a lengthy visit to Waupun. His doom is sealed any way, and he may consider his "occupation gone," for some years to come, at least.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.—Yesterday morning the Police Court presented an old fashioned appearance truly. The Bar was filled with prisoners, and the Court room was thronged with spectators, among whom might have been noticed not a few who, upon other occasions, occupied the place of the evil-doers who were now having justice dealt out to them by his Honor, Judge WALWORTH. Among the most prominent cases up yesterday morning, was that of James Canavan, charged with having committed an assault and battery, with intent to kill, upon the person of one Owen Pounderly. The defendant was committed in default of $1,000 bail, to await his examination, which is to take place this morning. Whiskey, it is said, was the cause of the affair. Canavan attempted to cut Pounderly's throat, but his knife not being quite sharp enough, it seems, he only succeeded in inflicting two or three dreadful gashes in the throat of the latter, which, however, were not sufficient to produce death. If the brute had been permitted to go on with his bloody work, he would doubtless have butchered his victim. This Canavan is a desperate character, and no better evidence of his brutal nature could be had, than the fact that he has frequently been subjected to heavy fines for inhuman treatment of his wife.—It is to be hoped that he may now meet his just reward, by being made to feel the weight of the law.

A man named John Watts, mate of a propeller which was lying in the river near the mills, on Sunday, was fined $25 and costs, for resisting an officer. This fellow and two others were arrested for kicking up a rumpus in an infamous house kept by a notorious woman, known as "Old Mother Wartake." They smashed the furniture, broke the windows and doors out, and turned things generally up side down. When the officers were arresting the fellows, Watts manifested a disposition not to accompany them, by attacking policeman Dusald, who had him in charge. He succeeded in getting the policeman partially down, and then struck him a desperate blow with a stone, it is thought, on the top of the head, inflicting a deep gash and quite stunning the officer. By the speedy interference of another officer, he was soon brought to terms, and conducted to the station house. The wound which he received is an ugly one, and it will lay him up from active service for a few days. Surely if any city officers earn their salaries it is the police.

Catharine Warnke, better known as "Old Mother Wartake," was brought up on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame, and committed to await her examination until to day. It is little more than a week since she was fined $50 for the same offence. She is a sly old witch, and were it not for the disorderly conduct of her guests on both occasions, it is not likely she would have been brought to justice. It is to be hoped that she may be fined to the full extent of the law this time.

Franklin Turner, William Reynolds, Joseph Kessler, John Maher, and John Brady, were all examined on a charge of disorderly conduct and dismissed. The case of Ellen Meyer, who was arrested for vagrancy, was held open, and the defendant discharged. John Foster was convicted of disorderly conduct, and fined $10. L. J. Reman, drunk and disorderly, was fined $5 and costs. Patrick Logan intoxicated, fined $1.—John Brown, intoxicated and disorderly, fined $5. James Smith, intoxicated, fined $3. Geo. Edwards, and Peter Burke were convicted of resisting an officer, and fined, the former $5 and the latter $10 and costs. The case of F. Dickey, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was postponed until to day.

A NOVEL PIC-NIC—AN EXCURSION ON THE LAKE.—Yesterday morning the Sabbath School children and congregation of the Church of the Redeemer, accompanied by their Pastor, and a number of invited guests, in all not less than 300 ladies, gentlemen, and children, of which much the larger portion were ladies and children, went off and spent the day out on the Lake, on board the fine Bark Hans Crocker. The vessel, with her precious cargo, started from Spring street bridge, in tow of the gallant little tug Decatur, with gay streamers flying from every mast, and the "Star Spangled Banner" waving over them all. Upwards of a thousand people assembled on the bridge and in its vicinity, to see the party off. The Milwaukee City Band was stationed on the upper deck, and as the bark moved down the river, they played "Hail Columbia," with as much spirit as if they were celebrating the Fourth of July. It was a lovely sight indeed, to see the party steam down the river, and every available looking point was crowded with spectators, many of whom hardly comprehended what the music, banners, crinoline, and youngsters could mean on board of a vessel. The weather was delightful, and the gay party soon were out of sight on the Lake.

At about six o'clock last evening the party returned, coming up the river as they went out, the bark in tow of the Decatur, and the band playing the appropriate air of "Home, sweet Home." No accident whatever occurred, and all on board enjoyed a day's unalloyed pleasure. The lake was smooth, and there was just enough wind to fill the sails of the gallant bark. The excursionists went nearly as far as Racine, the tug remaining with them all day, in case her services should be needed. A fine collation was spread upon the deck towards noon, by the ladies, and as the lake air always sharpens the appetite, we need not say that ample justice was done to this part. At the conclusion of the feast, brief and appropriate speeches were made by Messrs. STAPLES, HIBBARD and BOOTH, and when the deck was cleared of the eatables, all who desired joined in a trip of the "light fantastic toe," while the more sedate portion of the company looked on and laughed, and thus all passed the day as pleasantly as could be.

We acknowledge our indebtedness to several members for invitations to attend, but were unable to avail ourselves of their kindness.

NEWHALL HOUSE—PRICES RAISED.—We learn that this popular Hotel is now charging $2,50 per day instead of $2,00, as heretofore. We think, in justice to the traveling public, and the good name of our city, the proprietors should give notice of this fact, as many who stop at the NEWHALL expect, from the advertisements published throughout the country, to pay only $2,00 per day, and go away much dissatisfied, and consider themselves swindled, when they are required to pay more than the advertised price.

Common Council Proceedings.

MAYOR PRENTISS PRESIDING.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Saturday night. All present but De Vos and Bousman.

Alderman Carroll presented two recommendations of the Street Commissioners, with resolutions approving of the same, which had been adopted by the Board of Councillors, and had been referred to him at the last meeting of the Board, viz: One for constructing a sewer from Detroit to Chicago street, through the alley in blocks 42 and 43, and another for a sewer thro' Chicago street, in front of blocks 41, 42, 45 and 46, in the Third Ward.

Alderman Carroll said it was important that the work in question should be executed without delay, and this being the last day for Street Commissioners' recommendations, he had requested the Mayor to call the present meeting.

The recommendations and resolutions were then read by the Clerk and concurred in.

The Pound question next came up, and Ald. Plankinton opposed taking a lease of the lot in question; the city having, some years since, leased a lot in the Fourth Ward for a pound, which lot they had to pay rent for.

Ald. Daggett said the lot alluded to by Ald. Plankinton was not suitable for the purpose.—The lot it was now proposed to lease, had been carefully inspected by himself, Ald. Phelps and Mr. Beck; it had a shed and barn, which would be useful to shelter the animals taken up; the expense of any further fence, &c, would not exceed fifty dollars; and the rent, Mr. Beck assured him, would be more than paid by the fines collected.

Ald. Phelps said he agreed with Mr. Daggett, that the lot was well calculated to answer the purpose, but as the season was so far advanced, it might be as well not to rent the lot this year.

After considerable discussion, the resolutions authorizing the Mayor to lease the lot, and compromise with the owner of the other lot, was lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Ald. Daggett, Phelps and Plankinton.
Noes—Ald. Carroll, Keough, Lindwurm and Neldermann.

Ald. Daggett here retired from the Board.

Ald. Phelps offered the following:

Resolved, That, the Board of Councillors concurring herein, the City Treasurer be, and hereby is directed to permit any person or persons to redeem from the sale for city Taxes, levied previous to the year 1857, (in case the certificate of such sale is city property) any piece parcel, lot or tract of land, on payment into the Treasury, of the amount for which such piece, parcel or lot was sold, with ten cents for the certificate issued thereon, said sum to be payable in cash only; provided that such redemption be made previous to the first day of September, 1858.

Resolved further, That redemption may be made, and tax certificates of sale taken, before the first day of August next, (1858) on the sales for city taxes levied for 1857 (when the certificate of sale belongs to the city.) Provided the applicant will pay into the Treasury, in cash, the amount of sale, or face of certificate, without computing any interest thereon.

And be it further Resolved, That the City Clerk cause the foregoing resolutions to be published, and furnish the City Treasurer with a certified copy of the same.

Ald. Plankinton warmly opposed the resolution.

The Chair put the question on the resolutions, when they were rejected by the following vote:

Ayes—Ald. Keough and Phelps—2.
Noes—Ald. Carroll, Kindwurm, Niedermann, and Plankinton—4.

The Chair presented the account of the Milwaukee Gas Company for the last quarter, which had been referred back, to have date inserted.

The account was allowed by a unanimous vote, and referred to the Comptroller.

The Chair presented a communication from the Comptroller, informing the Board that he had arranged with Messrs. Berliner & Bruno for a release from them of their lease to the City of the rooms lately occupied as a Police Court, for the sum of $150. The lease expires March 1, 1861, and the amount due to that date would be $554 19-100, and he recommended that the arrangement be concurred in.

Ald. Niedermann moved that the recommendation of the Comptroller be concurred in; which was carried by a unanimous vote.

Ald. Lindwurm offered the following:

Resolved, By the Board of Aldermen, That Alderman Daggett be requested to state to this Board his reasons for leaving this Council Room and designating inappropriate language to the members of this Board, which we presume was applied to the members who voted against a Resolution introduced by the said Daggett relative to Hogs, &c., &c.

Adopted.

Ald. Carroll offered the following:

Resolved, The Board of Councillors concurring, That the Street Commissioners of Milwaukee be and they are hereby directed to order all obstructions removed from Lake street, in the Third Ward, in accordance with an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the abatement of certain nuisances," passed June 28, 1856.

Referred to the Street Commissioners.

On motion the Board adjourned to the next regular meeting.

ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.—On Sunday morning, a person calling himself COMSTOCK, but whose real name, it has been ascertained, is KELLOGG, attempted to commit suicide at the American House, by cutting his throat, while laboring under a fit of delirium tremens. It was feared that he would attempt to destroy his life, as he had been suffering from the same cause for several days, and a person was put to watch him, who, hearing him gasp after having cut a desperate gash in his throat with a razor, at about four o'clock on Sunday morning, rushed into the room in time to prevent his finishing the work. Dr. WOLCOTT was sent for, and the wound sewed up. Yesterday morning, KELLOGG was taken to the Hospital of the Sisters of Charity, where he will receive proper attention.

We are told that KELLOGG, came from Eau Claire, and had been about two weeks in this city. He is about 50 years of age. Some time ago he was engaged for a time in some business at Fond du Lac, and thence he went to the town of Eau Claire, when his partner (whose name we did not learn) is said to have collected all that was due the firm, and made off. About ten months ago he lost his wife, and since then or some time not long previous, he has been leading a life of dissipation, which he came near ending on Sunday morning in so awful a manner. It is not known whether he has any relatives living, or where they are.

THE EXCURSION ON THE MILWAUKEE.—The St. Paul Minnesotian, of Friday, says: "The Milwaukee, Capt. HEWETT, came in yesterday morning, with music playing and colors flying, finely decorated, and having on board a gay party of excursionists from Chicago and Milwaukee, to the number of two hundred and fifty, or more.—The band which accompanied the party is the famous Chicago Light Guard Band. The party landed about ten o'clock yesterday morning, and separated in different directions, some to Hotels, some to friends resident here—a lot to the Falls of St. Anthony and Minne-ha-ha, and some to Lakes Como and White Bear, &c. A portion of the party returned on the Milwaukee yesterday, and the remainder go down on the Ocean Wave to-day. They all expressed themselves, as delighted with St. Paul and the country surrounding, and will carry back to their cities a good report of the head of Navigation.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—We are obliged to Mr. L. C. LEWIS, of the Great Western Despatch, for late St. Paul papers.

Temperance Meeting on the Court House Square, on Sunday Afternoon.

About three hundred persons, or more, assembled on the Court House Square on Sunday afternoon to listen to discourses of the Rev. Mr. BENNETT, of Waukesha, and THURLOW W. BROWN, editor of the Wisconsin Chief, on the subject of intemperance. The weather was extremely propitious, but the audience was not as large as we should liked to have seen. Mr. BENNETT first addressed the meeting. He spoke briefly, and to the point, and was listened to with interest. Mr. BROWN's discourse was, as might have been expected, eloquent and touching, and it had a marked effect upon his hearers. The pictures which he drew of the evil effects of rum, were vivid and truthful, and the impression which he made on the minds of his listeners will not be obliterated by time. Mr. BROWN is a very unassuming man in appearance, a fluent and easy speaker, as if he has evidently observed and closely studied human nature. It is not often that he speaks to so slim an audience as turned out to hear him on Sunday.

Indeed, as a general thing our people, as a whole, do not sympathize much with the temperance movement, though here and there, an ardent advocate of the cause will be found, and such is the case in nearly all large cities on this continent. There is no denying the fact, that intemperance exists to an alarming extent in our State, and the country at large. Its evil effects are constantly before us, and we must hope for a time, when men will be rational enough, not to poison their own happiness. It has been very clearly demonstrated that Legislative interference will have little effect in staying the progress of intemperence, and the only means which we can rely upon to effect such a reform are precept and example. We are glad to learn that Mr. BROWN will be here again next Sabbath, when those of our citizens who desire, will have another opportunity to hear an eloquent discourse.

MILWAUKEE:
TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3.

Total Population of the Earth.

A distinguished professor of the University of Berlin, Herr Dietrich, has lately addressed a paper to the Academy of Sciences of that city, in regard to the world's population, and it is generally agreed that it is the most carefully prepared and most reliable work that has yet appeared on this interesting subject. After some detailed estimates in regard to the five great divisions of the world, he arrives at the conclusion that its present population is about twelve hundred and eighty-three millions. He estimates the population of Europe at 272,000,000, although the geographies only make it about 258,000,000.—But he gives reasons that appear to be sound for his increased figures. According to a calculation made in 1787, by order of Louis XVI. of France, the population of Europe was about 150,000,000, and in 1805 it was estimated at a little under 200,000,000. Since the latter date, if Herr Dietrich's calculation is correct, the population of Europe has increased at an average rate of considerably more than a million a year.

In reference to Asia, there are tolerably reliable data for China, India and the islands of the Indian Archipelago. For Japan, Tartary, Persia, Afghanistan, Arabia and other countries, it is necessary to trust to conjectures; but 720,000,000 is believed to be as nearly correct as can be ascertained. To the whole of the American continent, North and South, Herr DIETRICH allows 200,000,000, which is quite liberal and generally above most estimates. Australia and the adjacent islands he estimates to have a population of about two millions. Africa has been the most troublesome division of the globe to the Prussian statistician; for except in some of the European colonies, there have been no enumerations made of the inhabitants. He, however, arrives, by some means, at the conclusion that Africa has about 89,000,000 inhabitants. The whole estimated population of the earth, then, may be stated as follows:

Population of Europe	272,000,000
" Asia	720,000,000
" America	200,000,000
" Africa	89,000,000
" Australia, &c.	2,000,000
Total population of the globe	1,283,000,000

A few millions more or less can make little difference in a calculation of such enormous magnitude as this. In round numbers it may be said that the world has between twelve and thirteen hundred millions of inhabitants, and it is calculated that by the end of this century this will have increased to the enormous figure of two thousand millions. This is such a vast number, that its comprehension is almost impossible.—Imagine the population of three thousand cities as large as Philadelphia, and we may form some idea of the multitude.

Think, if possible, of the mortality among this great human family. The average number of deaths per annum, in certain places where records are kept, is about one to every forty inhabitants. Supposing that the earth has, as Herr Dietrich estimates, 1,282,000,000 inhabitants at the present time, the number of deaths in a year would be about 32,000,000, which is more than the entire present population of the United States. At this rate the average number of deaths per day is about 87,671; the average per hour about 3,653; the average per minute about 61! Thus at least every second a human life is ended. As the births considerably exceed the deaths, there are probably seventy or eighty human beings born per minute. These continual changes make no sensible impression on the surface of a society so divided and so dispersed.—But this coming down to minutes, in estimates of birth and death, cannot fail to present an awful picture to a contemplative mind.

MINNESOTA BANKING LAW.—The new banking law in Minnesota fixes 15 per centum as the limit of interest or discount, which banks organized under it can exact from their customers. The Minnesotian argues in favor of a usury law. It says: "Before we can have banks we must have a usury law." It thinks that the expediency of a usury law at this time rests simply upon a peculiar condition of things; upon the expediency of having banks at all at this time, and concludes that having by law fixed 15 per centum as the utmost limit of banking rates of interest, it becomes absolutely necessary, before any good can be obtained from this banking law, to pass another act establishing 15 per centum per annum, as the outside limit of interest in all transactions whatsoever.

DISCOVERY OF A COPPER MINE IN CRAWFORD COUNTY.—The Prairie du Chien Leader has been shown some specimens of copper ore dug from a rich vein recently discovered in the Kickapoo bluffs, near Wauzeka, which, if the reports current all approximate to the truth, will prove one of the most valuable discoveries yet made in the mining regions of the Southwestern Wisconsin. Two tons of ore that in the average will yield thirty-three per cent of pure copper, are said to have been taken out in a week by two individuals. A gentleman who has been on the ground assured the editor of the Leader that he had handled specimens of the ore that would not lose ten per cent in smelting. The Leader says:

It has long been known that Crawford county abounded in mineral, and not the least gratifying fact connected with this discovery is the assurance that it will have a tendency to the development of this source of wealth.

HITTING THE NAIL ON THE HEAD.—The Providence Journal thus sums up its comments on the light sentence passed on PETER DAWSON, the keeper of the notorious white woman slave pen, in Cherry Street, New York city:—"He is a good politician in his Ward; the Judiciary is elective." DAWSON is a prominent leader in the ranks of the New York Democracy.

A PLAN FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF DUELING.—The Vicksburg Whig proposes a new plan for the suppression of dueling, which, if it obtains, will now, hereafter and forever, put an end to the burning of gunpowder between gentlemen, at ten paces. The arrangement proposes that when a difficulty occurs between two gentlemen, the matter shall be referred to a court of honor, who shall settle it or decide whether it is necessary to fight or not. In case of the court deciding in favor of a fight, the parties to be compelled to fire till one is killed, and then the other to be arrested and hung for murder.

☞ The Prince of Wales has but seven ladies to choose a wife from, unless he marry somebody much older than himself, or greatly his inferior in rank. These "seven" are Protestant and royal—they are princesses of Prussia, Hesse Darmstadt, Holstein, Wurtemburg, Denmark, Saxe Altenburg and Oldenburg.

THE FLOWERING CENTURY PLANT.—The fact has before been noticed that a century plant, or American aloe, in Philadelphia, was about to bloom. The plant belongs to Mr. Geo. H. Stuart, and now reaches a height of 25 feet, promises a most gorgeous developement of bloom.—The plant weighs nearly a ton and a half.

The Village of Darlington.

The Excelsior, a new paper published at the village of Darlington, in Lafayette Co., gives the following sketch of the place from which it hails:

The property now constituting the village plat, was purchased in May, 1850, of Jamison Hamilton, one of the oldest settlers of our County, and was surveyed in the following July. The work on the flouring mill and race was commenced in April, 1851, and the mill was grinding in December. The Foundry, Mercy's Wood en Factory, and the old saw-mill were erected about the same time. The dwellings at this time consisted of three brick and two frame houses; with the log house of the old proprietor, where now stands the Wadeworth House. The Mineral Point Railroad was surveyed through the village in the spring of 1858, and the contracts let, and grading commenced; in September, of that year, continuing, as the weather permitted, till the fall of '54, when the defalcation of Robert Schuyler of New York, who had been employed to dispose of the bonds of the road, stopped the work. The population of the village, at this time, was about 250 or 300, all good, sociable people, a little discouraged, may be, but characterized by a stiffness of the upper lip which in all the ups and downs incidental to a new town, has never forsaken them.

But brighter times were at hand. Eastern men, with more or less money, began to come in; arrangements had been made with responsible men to complete the railroad, and in the spring of '58 the work commenced, and the trains were running between Warren and this place the winter of the same year. The growth of the place for the past three years has been solid and steady. Not less than seventy five thousand dollars worth of buildings were erected last year; and notwithstanding the "hard times," there are as many in progress this year. The population is between 1,000 and 1,500, mostly eastern people, New York, Ohio and Vermont, furnishing a good portion.

A Congregational and a Baptist church, and a good brick school house, are among the public buildings. Seven dry goods stores, two grocery stores, two stove and tin stores, two boot and shoe makers, two black-smith and wagon shops, one livery stable, one flouring mill, two cooper shops, one steam planing mill, one wool carding establishment, two hotels, &c.

Surrounded by a country, which for richness and fertility is unsurpassed, and which must for all time pour its valuable products into the lap of our village for manufacturing purposes; with a refined and cultivated society, our village offers to those who may be seeking a new home in the west, all that any but an enthusiastic dreamer could desire, and that class we do not want, because we all work here.

The Excelsior is Republican in politics, and is under the editorial management of FRED. G. THEARLE and D. T. LINDLEY. Its first number makes a very creditable appearance.

AN ISLAND AFLOAT.—We learn from the Wayne Democratic Press, that, a few days since, a large object was seen on Lake Ontario in a northwesterly direction from Pultneyville, gently floating to the eastward. It excited considerable curiosity, as it appeared unlike anything ever seen on the lake before. As all had a desire to know more about it, several young men, in boats, started in pursuit, and after a sturdy pull with oars, it was at last overhauled some five miles from shore. It was steadily wending its way down the lake, impelled by the current at the rate of about three miles an hour, and when overtaken presented, to the astonishment of the beholders, a no less novel spectacle than an island covered with luxuriant vegetation! It was about five rods in length and nearly of equal breadth; and had probably been formed in some quiet nook of a river or bay upon some timber or brush, that had become stationary under the surface of the water, till an admixture of earthy and vegetable matter had accumulated sufficient to nourish vegetation, such as is peculiar to swampy locations. These had grown and fallen through a long succession of years, until the whole had become matted together by roots and fibres so as to give the whole mass a firmness and tenacity sufficient to resist the waves, and a specific gravity that enabled it to float. The late rains increasing the volume of water where it formed, elevated it from its bed, broke it from its moorings and sent it off on a voyage of discovery. The whole island was covered with such plants as are seen about Irondequoit Bay, and had just such an appearance. It was sufficiently firm to bear up a man—as Dr. Beardsley stepped on shore and took possession in behalf of Uncle Sam. The island was not wholly uninhabited, as several small birds were seen. The highest points on the island were about five feet above the surface of the water, and the plants stood firm and erect, vigorous and healthful.

Were it not impossible for it to reach Lake Ontario in safety, we should claim this to be a slice of our celebrated Menomonee marsh, a large portion of which makes semi-annual voyages out on Lake Michigan.

SCREW PROPELLER STRIKING A WHALE.—The Rev. B. JENKINS, writing from Shanghai, China, to the Southern Christian Advocate, of Charleston, S. C., states that—

"A remarkable occurrence took place when H. M.'s screw steam gun vessel Nimrod was proceeding, under steam, for the entrance of the river Min, on the 16th of April. When about four miles outside Sharp Peak, a violent concussion was experienced by all on board, as if the ship had struck the ground, but knowing from the position such could not be the case, the real cause was evidenced on looking astern, on their discovering a large whale severed nearly in two blowing convulsively, and bleeding so profusely as to redden the water all around. The whale had doubtless been struck with much violence by the screw propeller, and indeed the engines were brought too momentary stand still by the shock. Unusual and unlikely as this may appear, it is nevertheless a fact."

A CRYSTAL PALACE IN TORONTO.—The citizens are now erecting a crystal palace, for the Provincial Agricultural Fair, next autumn. The grounds for the building were given by the government, and the city of Toronto has voted £5,000 towards its cost. Other municipalities are expected to supply any further funds that may be required to complete it. The cast iron girders have all been erected, and part of the roof is put up and the tin work progressing satisfactorily, causing the contractors to be sanguine that the palace will be finished before September 1st, the day on which the contract term expires. The inauguration ceremonies took place last week. The Mayor and other officials and Mr. VonKougenet, Minister of Agriculture, were present at the ceremony, and made speeches. The latter said that, with the exceptions of glass and tin, all the materials used in the building would be produced by Canadian workmen.

A HAUNTED HOUSE IN NEW YORK.—In one of the most fashionable and central localities of the city, at the corner of one of two pleasant streets, stands a house of elegant exterior, which has been unoccupied for years; many times has it been taken by parties either ignorant of its mysterious character, or determined not to heed the popular rumor; bustle of cleansing has been evident for a few days; cart loads of furniture have been taken in, and the aspect of the building has been cheerful again; when, presto, there is a change. The furniture is brought out and carted away; the window shutters are closed; the place is deserted, and silence and gloom reign undisturbed. It was taken just before May; but in a week or two there was a bill on it bearing the cabalistic words—"This House to let;" and such is its present condition. It has looked very desolate in the moonlight for a few evenings past, along side of its brilliantly illuminated neighbors. Many believe it is really "by spirits haunted."—N Y Express.

☞ There are now nineteen flour mills in St. Louis that turn out daily about six hundred barrels of flour. Multiply this by three hundred, the number of working days in a year, and we have one million eight hundred thousand barrels of flour made in St. Louis alone.

Poisoned his Wife, Child and Servant.

From the Troy Times, July 27.

Great excitement exists at Bennington, growing out of a remarkable case developed there, which seems to involve a probability of the murder, by a farmer in that town, in good circumstances, named Nathaniel Spafford, of his wife, and the dangerous poisoning of his child and a servant girl in his employ. The circumstances, as we have obtained a record of them, are these.

Yesterday morning Spafford rose at an early hour, before his wife had been awakened, built a fire and prepared the coffee for breakfast. It was something unusual for him to do this, but when his wife, who had awakened mean while, offered to attend to the coffee, he told her not to mind, he could make it as well. When breakfast was served, Spafford remarked that he believed he would not drink any coffee, and none was poured out for him. His wife asked him the reason for this. He answered that he had been thinking that the beverage was hurtful to him, that it destroyed the tone of his stomach, and weakened his nerves, and therefore he had concluded to give it up. No suspicion of an evil design on his part being entertained, this explanation was deemed satisfactory. Mrs. Spafford, her child, and a servant girl employed in the family, all partook of the coffee.

Very soon after breakfast, Mrs. S. began to experience a burning pain in the stomach, and a sensation of fullness which precedes violent illness from sudden inflammatory attacks. She remarked this to the servant girl, and the latter replied that she had been similarly affected.—Almost at the same time the child complained of being unwell. Those premonitory symptoms were almost immediately succeeded by terrible vomiting, painful retching, and throbbing pains in the head in each case. A neighbor, Mrs. Charles Clapp, wife of an engineer on the Troy and Boston road, entering the house, Mrs. Spafford, remembering that her husband had drank none of the coffee in the morning, and coupling it with his anxiety to prepare it himself, exclaimed that she had been poisoned by the beverage. Mrs. Clapp laughed at her fears, and asked for a cup of the coffee, of which she drank a small quantity. Soon after she also was taken sick, and precisely the same symptoms were manifested in her case.

Doctors Bruce and Ranney of the village were called upon to attend the case. They remarked at once apparent indications of metallic poison. Extreme prostration and heavy pains in the stomach followed the fits of vomiting and retching which marked the strange illness. Mrs. Spafford was the most strongly affected of all—the child, which had drank little of the coffee, least so. The servant girl was very ill during the day, but towards evening her pain appeared to be somewhat alleviated, and apparently thro' the night she did not suffer much. Mrs. Clapp did not drink enough of the coffee to be rendered dangerously sick, but enough to experience the fits of vomiting and the burning pains of which the others complained.

The facts thus presented were regarded as warranting the arrest of Spafford. He was taken in charge yesterday afternoon by officer Dyer.—Justice Toombs, after a preliminary examination, committed him to the Bennington jail, to await the result of the cases. He refuses to say much with regard to the affair, but denies his guilt.—After his examination, he declared he would drink a cup of coffee, if it was furnished him.—He drank one or two swallows and set it aside. Soon after, he too was taken sick, vomited, and complained of the burning pain.

This morning, the physicians having the patients in charge, pronounced the servant girl and child out of danger. Mrs. Spafford, however, it was thought by them, would die. She was sinking rapidly, and the poison, whatever it may have been, seemed to have operated with a fatal effect upon her. Last evening, A. P. Lynam, Saxe's Attorney, took her ante-mortem deposition, which was made by her in full view of the probabilities of death, her physician having informed her that she was not likely to recover. There is nothing in her statement which differs materially from what we have stated. Her impression seemed to be strong, judging from his conduct, that her husband had poisoned her—but an impression, of course, does not become evidence until it has been borne out by fact.

The remaining portion of the coffee made by Spafford, and which—from what reason remains to be developed—seems to have been the cause of this mysterious sickness, was taken to Albany for analyzation this morning. Dr. Coon, an apothecary of the village, says that a short time since he sold Spafford a quantity of corrosive sublimate, which he stated that he wanted for the purpose of killing bed-bugs. He lives in a new house, however, in which there are no bedbugs, and his family are not aware of his having used any of the poison against the vermin. The symptoms of sickness in all five of the cases were precisely such as would ensue from the administration of corrosive sublimate—being even more rapid in their appearance and far more violent than in cases even where arsenic has been taken into the system. This circumstance seems to be one in a peculiarly complete and unbroken chain of circumstantial evidence.

Spafford is a man of about 35 years, of fair repute hitherto, and in the enjoyment of good circumstances peculiarly. He has been employed as manager of Wm. P. Hawks' farm. With regard to the motive he would have for committing the terrible crime which suspicion fastens upon him—if he did commit it—it is stated that he has been for some time past paying attentions to a young woman at Shaftsbury; that those attentions have been of an equivocal character, and a suspicion thus induced that he wanted to get his wife out of the way. If he did, he certainly went to work in a very bungling way to do it.

The family of Spafford were visited yesterday by large numbers of people, anxious to ascertain their condition and prospects. Numbers called on Spafford himself at the jail, but he declined to hold any conversation on the subject, remarking that the facts would all come out in course of time. This morning, the probability that his wife would die increased the interest in the subject, and the excitement became remarkable, for a place of the size of Bennington.

PRINCE ALFRED'S TOUR IN IRELAND.—His Royal Highness, Prince Alfred and suite, arrived at the Railway Hotel, Killarney, at 3 o'clock on Tuesday last, accompanied by William Talbot Crosbie, Esq., of Ardfert Abbey, in whose handsome open drag-and-four the royal party traveled, driven by Mr. Crosbie himself, the Prince seated on the box beside him. A carriage and fresh horses were taken, and the royal party proceeded through Lord Kenmare's domesne and pleasure grounds to Ross Castle, where they embarked on board a six-oared boat, the sailor Prince boldly taking his place at the helm, and rowed away to Innishallen, that very respectable and excellent guide and bugler, Mr. Jeremiah O'Connor, playing "Rule Britannia." After a brief inspection of the Island and its monastic ruins, they re-embarked and proceeded to Glen Cottage, where they dined. After dinner, they rowed through Tore Lake, minutely exploring Dundag Bay, and every interesting nook and corner around that delightful sheet of water, to the hosthouse at Muckross, where they again landed. Re-crossing Tore Lake to Dinis, his Royal Highness hooked a fine salmon, which, in his great anxiety to capture, we regret to say, he lost, although the royal angler evinced great judgment and dexterity in plying the noble fish. Arrived at the Eagle's Nest, a grand salute of cannon, re-echoing through hill and dale, mountain and valley, greeted his Royal Highness, with which he expressed himself highly delighted. The party thence proceeded through the pass to the Upper Lakes, on one to Derrycunnihy, better known in the good old times as Hyde's Cottage, where Mr. Crosbie's drag and fresh horses were in readiness, and having disembarked, O'Connor playing with his accustomed execution the national anthem, the royal party proceeded direct to Kenmare, where they embarked on board the Black Eagle, and steamed away to Valencia.—Tralee Chronicle, July 3.

INTERESTING MOVEMENTS.—The famous Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes as follows in his letter of the 21st inst.

It was not an idle rumor I stated a few weeks ago that an attempt would be made for an expedition from the United States territory into either Lower California or some of the northern States of Mexico. It was not for nothing that this summer Mike Walsh, Gen. Henningsen, and others in the filibuster movement were in Vera Cruz and other points. It is stated that large numbers of influential Mexicans are in favor of the erection of a new Presidency, embracing certain of the northern Mexican States, after the manner of the Texas revolt, and that they do not only dislike the interference of Americans, but in fact have implored it, that success may crown their efforts. This may in part account for the little that the "Lone Star" advocates, under the control of Walker and Lockridge, have said lately of Nicaragua or Cuba. Certain it is that the order has gone out from Zuloago to concentrate troops upon the frontier, which, in the present distracted condition of Mexico, will, in all probability, remain unexecuted, and that our Government has been advised of these facts, and earnestly prayed to take means for the discomfiture of the expeditionists. Not knowing, however, what will be Mr. Forsyth's report of his treatment, and what really are the points of controversy between the representatives of the two nations, no decided action is taken, because it may be that now, as in 1846, Mexican rulers, to reunite the dismembered elements of the confederacy, may blindly precipitate her into a disastrous war. The Administration's desire is that the kindest relations shall exist with Mexico, and that every just ground of compliment shall be removed, but it is not so certain what is the feeling of Mexico.

The August Fashions.

At this season lace and berege, lawns and organdies, crepe and chip, bear universal sway, as is meet for things light and delicate, aerial and fanciful. Now is the time for deciding the relative merits of crinoline and extension skirts, of steel springs and boiled bones, of bustles graduated and adjustable. It need hardly be said that the great improvement patented by Douglas & Sherwood has borne away the palm in the city and country. Their "adjustable," like Atlas, supports the world, a fair portion of it, at least.

Barques are undoubtedly declining in favor, but will be clung to for a while yet. They are much shorter than before, and hollowed out so as to make points like lappets at the hips, with long rounded points at the back and front of the waist. Those worn in the morning are of Marseilles, brilliante or corded dimity; in the evening, of black lace, or white French or Swiss muslin, finished by puffings filled with colored ribbon. Light material requires loose and flowing sleeves, with flounces or puffings, and decorations of ribbons or velvet. Dress materials for the season are quoted by Godey's fashion editress as follows:

"For plain dress, goat's hair cloth, Paris grenadine, toilet de soie, taffetas de laine, striped, ribbed or clouded berage, and printed muslins or Pekins—a white ground with colored figures. For full dress, summer moire antique, striped and plaids on grey ground, clouded silks and carmine in plaids or broad stripes. There are also tissues with small grey flowers on white or colored ground and surrounded by stripes of two tints, forming a square: sprig patterns of a new gold tint; grey silks shaded to imitate puffings, and intersected by gold stripes. The last article is the greatest novelty, and the most stylish of all."

In mourning dress, the most noticeable change of the season is from violet or lavender and black, to simple black and white, in the combinations. Purple and lavender are now not considered mourning at all. In dress materials, gray cloths, weather Lavella, mousseline, Madona, or silk tissues—and stripes, plaids, and figures of black on a white ground, or white on a black ground, are the most desirable. This last, in silks, glaces, foutards, or chines, has an excellent effect, as well as in the tissues, especially belonging to the month—grenadines, organdies, &c. Dresses of plain black English crape will be made up over black silk, with a light mantle and bonnet of the same, for a visiting or carriage dress. Nothing could be in better taste. Grenadine is much used in making up sets of undersleeves and collars for deeper mourning instead of black crape, keeping its shape and color better. In second mourning, Brabant tarleton, Swiss muslin and plain lace or quilled illusion sets, are admissable.

Light veils for second mourning are made of Brussels net—short, or semi-veils, round at the corners, and trimmed with a ruche of crape, lightened by another of black illusion, being plaited underneath.

Mixed straw, grey chips, white chips, trimmed with black and white ribbons, Neapolitans, and crapes, are among the favorite bonnets. Ruches of ribbon or crape, encircling the bonnet on the outer edge of the brim, and carried round the cape, are much used in trimming them.

Girls under ten wear a few cornages over that cornage, a high cornage, with a basque, in a plain costume. Pique and jaconet are the favorite materials.

Up to the age of seven, dresses of white percale or cambric muslin, ornamented with needle work, are elegant, or white pique may be employed in a plainer style of costume is desired.—A little pardessus composed of white pique, and trimmed with grelote is one of the prettiest.

The most admired dresses recently prepared for little boys, include one composed of a loose jacket, and trousers, composed of grey cashmere. The jacket is fastened from top to bottom by a row of gray buttons. The sleeves, which are loose and reach to the middle of the forearm, are turned up at the end in the form of reverse cuff, and trimmed with passementerie. The under sleeves of white jaconet are closed at the wrists by bands fastened with an ornamented button. A plain white collar turned down, and a green neck tie, complete the costume.

☞ Some ladies and gentlemen went in bathing together at Oyster point, near New Haven. John Dorsy joined them and attempted to duck them. In consequence one of them sued him. He was fined but appealed the case. Moral—Ladies and gentlemen should not go in swimming together.

From the Knickerbocker.
The Blue-Bells of New England.
BY L. S. ALCOCK.

The roses are a regal troop
And humble folks the daisies,
But, Blue-Bells of New England,
You suit I give my praises
To you, fair phantoms in the sun,
Whom merry Spring discovers,
With blue birds for your haircates
And honey-bees for lovers.

The South wind breathes, and lo! ye throng
This rugged land of ours;
Mechlins the pale blue clouds of May
Drop down and turn to flowers!
By cottage-doors, along the roads,
You show your winsome faces,
And like the secret lucky hoard
The lonely woodland places!

All night your eyes are closed in sleep,
But open at the dawning;
Such simple faith as yours can see
God's coming in the morning;
You lead me, by your holiness,
To pleasant ways of duty;
You set my thoughts to melody,
You fill me with your beauty.

You are like the eyes I love,
So modest and so tender,
Just touched with morning's glorious light,
And evening's gentle splendor.
Long may the heaven give you rain,
The sun-shine its caresses,
Long may the little girl I love
Entwine you in her tresses!

A Faithful Horse in Memoriam.

Here lies a faithful steed
A staunch uncompromising "silver grey,"
Who ran the race of life with sprightly speed,
Yet never ran—away.

Wild oats he never sowed,
Yet masticated tame ones with much zest;
Cheerful he bore each light slotted load,
As cheerfully took rest.

Bright were his eyes, yet soft,
And in the rain his tail was white and dowling,
And though he never sketched a single draught,
He showed great taste for drawing.

Little were his limbs and clean!
Fitted alike for buggy or for dray,
And like Napoleon the Great, I ween,
He had a martial neigh.

Oft have I watched him grace
His favorite stall, well littered, warm and fair,
With such contentment shining from his face,
And such a classic air.

With here and there a speck
Of roan, diversifying his broad cask,
And marigr-like, a halter round his neck,
Which bound him to the rack.

More omnibus! at length
The hey-day of his life was damped by death,
So summoning all his late remaining strength,
He drew — his final breath.

Female Dress and Habits—The Shoes of Royalty.

The glowing color and freshness of English female beauty, has always excited the gratifying comments of Americans who have visited Albion isle. The striking contrast between the organization of American women and that of their transatlantic cousins is entirely due to the relative care or neglect of physical training. The indifference or inattention to physical education, which is so universal a defect in America, is the great cause of degeneracy in personal strength and beauty. With all our republican defiance of restraint and formality, we practically ignore, as a nation, the very advantages which should endure to us from our independent positions.

The old homespun clothes and home dressed shoes have given way to crinoline and gaiters.—Even in ordinary traveling and every day promenade, our American ladies affect a luxury of costume which the Queen of England would not assume outside of her palace drawing room. English women take life practically, as a life to work in and enjoy, and they utterly discard fashion where personal health or comfort is concerned. Many of our fashionable ladies here dress as if they were never to go out except to tread on carpets of velvet. We can imagine with what a shrug of aristocratic disdain many of these must read the account of the bridal outfit of the Princess Royal. Amongst the items particularly striking take the following:

"Twelve dozen pairs of boots of useful and solid make; some of them intended for rough walking, being provided with treble soles, and small but projecting nails."

Only think of our "paper soled," delicate footed damsels sporting, by way of novelty, bobnailed tripled soled shoes? Does any one doubt, however that such an innovation would do more to preserve the roses in fair roses than any style of hygiene which the "faculty" could recommend? We denounce often the fashion of England as monarchial—we think the Princess Royal might set us good republicans an example in the matter of understanding.

SCENE IN A COURT ROOM—AN UNACCOUNTABLE PANIC.—A correspondent of the Fairmount True Virginian, gives an amusing description of a singular scene, which occurred in the Marion county Court house:

Mr. F. H. Pierpoint sat in rather a recumbent position, with the back of his chair against the enormous stove near the clerk's desk. From this stove ascends perpendicular to the ceiling, a stovepipe of great length. Some one, perhaps Mr. Watson, the clerk, balloed to Mr. P. to take care or the stove would upset; the reupon Mr. Neeson and Mr. Haymond rather abruptly and loudly seconded Mr. Watson; and, as to assist in creating the alarm, the stove pipe rattled against the ceiling. Like lightning Mr. Pierpoint sprang from his seat, ran across the room, and jumped out of the window head foremost.—A panic immediately seiz-d all—a most unaccountable panic. Some one said the ceiling was about to fall; this capped the climax; every one took to his heels; Judge Camden jumped up on the window sill, the clerk tumbled out of the window next his desk; Messrs. E. B. Hall, A. S. Payden, G. D. Camden, Jr., Allison Flemming, Wm. P. Thomson and Ellery R. Hall, all made for one window, and panic stricken, like a flock of sheep, tumbled out heels over head after Mr. Pierpoint—some on their hands; some on the backs of friends, and all presenting a most ludicrous appearance as they rolled about the court house yard to the great terror of the young ladies enjoying the "alfresco" of the jail porch convenient to the window. John Keene, as if the devil was at his heels, made for the door, upset two old men, who yelled terrifically, in the hall, cleared the railings in the yard, and never looked back until he got to the other side of the street. Meanwhile others fell upon their knees and prayed, some were petrified with fear, and others stood aghast with wonder. In about five minutes, however, the whole scene ended. The stove did not fall, the stove pipe stood erect, the ceiling was firm; loud laughter succeeded despair, good humor once more prevailed, and every one, looking a little foolish and a great deal pleased, took his seat as before, and the business of the Court went on as usual.

To the Merchant Tailors
OF MILWAUKEE!
PROF. CONSTANTINE KLETT,
IS here for the purpose of giving Scientific Instruction to all who wish to become acquainted with his new popular and unrivalled
Practical System of Anatomical Measurment!
The leading houses of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans, are now using this system as taught by Professor Klett.
Prof. K. has the most unquestionable testimonials, passing encomiums on the usefulness, habitility and superiority of his system, from distinguished Tailors throughout the United States, who have been instructed by him.
He guarantees a GOOD FIT of Coats, Pants and Vests, (regardless of deformity or unproportioned size of person), when cut by his infallible Mathematical System, which is without division or instrument of any kind.
Prof. K. can be met at Arcade Building, East Water Street, No 6, 4th floor, before 9 o'clock in the morning, and between 1½ and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, where he will be happy to receive visitors who desire to examine his system. Orders directed to him will receive prompt attention.
A-d in all cases, if he does not prove his system superior to all others in use, no pay will be expected for his instructions.

G. SIMMONDS,
SOLE PROPRIETOR AND MANUFACTURER OF
PURE OHIO
Catawba Brandy.
THIS Brandy has been manufactured for several years from the pure juice of the Catawba Grape, thus affording additional evidence, of the progress of American enterprise and industry, and of our ability to produce articles at home, equal to those made by any other nation.
The Ohio Catawba Brandy, not only equals but excels the best imported Brandies, in purity and flavor. This is in fact the best Brandy known. This statement is fully corroborated by the certificates of our most distinguished analytical chemists.
The want of pure brandy has long been felt this country, and the introduction of an article of such quality as to supersede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of Brandy, can only be regarded as a great public good. The Catawba Brandy possess all the good qualities claimed for the best imported liquors, and is of perfect purity and superior flavor, and a sovereign and sure remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Cramp, Colic, Languor, Low Spirits, General Debility, &c.
NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.
RETAIL PRICE $1,25 PER BOTTLE.
Recommended by the physicians and druggists of the United states.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE CITY
TURTON & SERCOMBE,
MANUFACTURERS of Steam Engines and Boilers, Flour and Saw Mill Gearing, Brass and Composition work, together with Castings of all descriptions.
Also manufacturers of the celebrated Haviland & Tuttle's Patent Centre-Vent Water Wheel. It uses less water, in proportion to the power given, than any other wheel manufactured. It is adapted to either high or low heads of water, runs perfectly steady, and is not affected by back-water, only in the loss of head. In addition to this, it can be set with but little delay, and at no greater expense than ordinary wheels. It has given general satisfaction to all who have used it, and that, together with its durability, having been used in Messrs. Ludington & Co's Mill over seven years, with at one dollar expense, gives it an entire superiority over all other wheels. Descriptive circulars forwarded on application.
Mill Stones, Bolting Cloth, Screw Wire, and Mill furnishings, of all descriptions, at the shortest notice.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL to procure Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will relieve all pain, and spasmodic action, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful female physicians in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arise from teething or from any other cause.

Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. Not one case in fifty requires more than one bottle to effect a perfect cure.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is sold and used with great success in London, Paris and Dublin.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Office No. 13 Cedar street, New York.

Sold in Milwaukee by Bigelow & Spaulding.
